

KI2L: Licensed since 2000, Bob enjoys building even more than operating but not quite as much as collecting test equipment. A serial entrepreneur, he is gainfully employed as a Systems Architect for Oracle, designing systems that you and the employees of your state, municipal, and federal governments use every day. He is also a co-founder of the Tech Valley Center of Gravity, an incubator center and makerspace currently renovating an 1850's 50,000 sq ft building in Troy N.Y.
